

INDIANA UNIVERSITY BLOOMINGTON
ONE HUNDRED NINETY-SIXTH
COMMENCEMENT

FRIDAY, MAY 9, 2025
and
SATURDAY, MAY 10, 2025

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

O! say, can you see by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there;
O! say, does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave,
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave?

HAIL TO OLD I.U.

Come and join in song together,
Shout with might and main;
Our beloved Alma Mater,
Sound her praise again.

Chorus

Gloriana, Frangipana,
E'er to her be true;
She's the pride of Indiana,
Hail to old I.U.!

—Joe T. Giles, Class of 1894

INDIANA, OUR INDIANA

Indiana, our Indiana,
Indiana, we're all for you.
We will fight for
The Cream and Crimson
For the glory of old IU.
Never daunted, we cannot falter.
In the battle, we're tried and true.
Indiana, our Indiana,
Indiana, we're all for you! I-U!

—Russell P. Harker

ONE HUNDRED NINETY-SIXTH COMMENCEMENT

Indiana University Bloomington

Dear Graduates:

Congratulations! Today's Commencement ceremony marks the culmination of years of hard work at Indiana University. I extend my heartfelt best wishes to you, along with those of your family and friends whose love, encouragement, and strong belief in your abilities have propelled you toward this wonderful day. Their support has helped each of you achieve your highest goals and deserves our deepest gratitude. Today is as much a day to share that gratitude as it is to celebrate.

Through countless hours attending lectures, completing assignments, and studying for exams, it may have seemed as if this moment would never come. While there were likely many challenges along the way, I am confident that your professors and mentors equipped you with the skills of adaptability, collaboration, reasoning, and critical inquiry that helped you overcome those trials as well as grow both personally and professionally. These are the very tools that will serve you well as you prepare to navigate a world of global competition and dynamic change.

As you graduate today, you are extending the great traditions of Indiana University that have taken shape over more than two centuries. You and more than 790,000 other alumni are a proud and important part of our university's rich and living history. Wherever you go, Indiana University will always be your alma mater and will always welcome you back home.

Again, congratulations, and bring on tomorrow!

Sincerely,

Pamela Whitten
President
Indiana University

COMMENCEMENT TRADITIONS

The audience is requested to remain until the conclusion of the ceremony.

Today's 196th Commencement exercises at Indiana University Bloomington mark the joyous culmination and proud recognition of our graduates' academic achievements. The ceremony is rich in academic tradition and protocol.

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

The origins of academic dress date back to the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, when universities were taking form. The ordinary dress of the scholar, whether student or teacher, was the dress of a cleric. Long gowns were worn and may have been necessary for warmth in unheated buildings.

The assignment of colors to signify certain faculties was a much later development, and one that was standardized in the United States in the late nineteenth century. White, taken from the white fur trimming of the Oxford and Cambridge bachelor's hoods, was assigned to arts and letters. Red, one of the traditional colors of the church, went to theology. Green, the color of medieval herbs, was adopted for medicine, and olive, because it was so close to green, was given to pharmacy. Golden yellow, standing for the wealth that scientific research has produced, was assigned to the sciences.

Gowns

All candidates for degrees and those who hold these degrees, including university officials and faculty and visiting dignitaries, wear traditional gowns. Most are black, but some are brightly colored. The style of the gown indicates the highest degree held by the wearer, and the colors represent institutions and fields of study.

The gowns for bachelor's degree and associate degree recipients have a closed front and open sleeves. At Indiana University, candidates for bachelor's and associate degrees also wear crimson "stoles of gratitude," which they may keep as a memento of the day or present as a token of thanks to anyone who has guided them on their path to graduation.

The master's degree gown has extremely long, closed sleeves, from which the arms extend through a slit at the wrist; the end of the sleeve is square, with an arc cut away just above the bottom. The doctor's gown has velvet panels down the front and voluminous bell-shaped sleeves on which there are three velvet bars.

Caps, Tassels, and Hoods

Candidates for associate and bachelor's degrees wear square-topped caps—also called mortarboards—which are adorned with colored tassels appropriate to the school or division from which they are graduating. The same colors are used throughout the United States. They are:

Arts and Sciences—White
Business—Drab
Education—Light Blue
Informatics, Computing, and Engineering—Copper
Music—Pink
Nursing—Apricot
Optometry—Aqua
Public and Environmental Affairs—Peacock Blue
Public Health—Salmon
Social Work—Citron

Velvet-lined hoods are worn by holders of master's and doctoral degrees. The master's hood extends to the middle of the back, is edged in velvet in the same color as the tassel, and is lined with colors representing the institution from which the degree was earned. Indiana University hoods are lined with cream and crimson.

The doctor's hood is longer, has wider velvet edging, and fully exposes the lining.

Honor Cords and Medallions

Graduating With Distinction, High Distinction, and Highest Distinction

Indiana University holds all of its graduates in high esteem and takes an added measure of pride in those who have excelled academically.

Candidates who graduate With Distinction, High Distinction, and Highest Distinction are entitled to wear on their left shoulders the fourragère, cream and crimson cords. In addition, on some IU campuses, certain students are entitled to wear gold medallions indicating that they are graduating with honors. The recorders in each school distribute fourragères to qualified students before Commencement. The requirements for graduating with honors are different for each school.

IU Bloomington College, School, and Departmental Honor Cords

Some schools and departments offer honors programs for students who excel academically and seek an enriched and challenging learning environment. Graduates who fulfill the requirements of these programs receive a notation on their diplomas and are eligible to wear gold or blue honor cords, which are provided by the participating colleges, schools, and departments.

Insignia from Greek Honor Societies

A wide array of honors organizations recognize outstanding achievement in service, philanthropy, and scholarship. Indiana University is proud of all of its students who fulfill the requirements for membership in these important societies, but on Commencement day the university singles out those honor societies that emphasize academic achievement. Graduates who have been admitted to these societies may wear the appropriate cords at Commencement.

Honor Cords for Veterans and Service Members

Graduating students who have served or are currently serving in the U.S. Armed Forces wear red, white, and blue cords.

Music

Today's music is performed by musicians from the Indiana University Jacobs School of Music. The selections represent a range of genres, including traditional ceremonial pieces, such as several of the famous Pomp and Circumstance Marches by Sir Edward Elgar and Marching Song by Gustav Holst. In addition, the program consists of other familiar marches and fanfares, and two Indiana University traditions: Hail to Old I.U. and the IU fight song, Indiana, Our Indiana.

UNDERGRADUATE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

DREW KIMBLE

Drew Kimble graduates today with distinction, earning a Bachelor of Science from the IU Kelley School of Business, where he majored in information systems and business analytics. Arriving at IU from Herndon, Virginia, with a Dean's Scholarship, Kimble chose to major in information systems because of his interest in technology, cultivated through high school business and research courses.

He is the recipient of the John & Ellen Carruthers Scholarship, which supports the studies of Kelley School of Business students who have demonstrated academic excellence. He has also received the Gettelfinger Scholarship twice and was admitted into Hutton Honors College during his freshman year.

Kimble served as the co-president of M&A Advisors at IU, a student organization committed to providing Kelley students with exposure to the strategic and financial wings of mergers and acquisitions. During his tenure, he devised new executive positions to encourage diverse leadership, co-led the first club case competition, and positively impacted the growth and retention of group members, where his efforts contributed to a 350 percent increase in new applicants. Since April 2024, he has held the role of vice president of outreach for the Technology Consulting Workshop Student Leadership Team. He conducted organizational outreach, engaged with multiple Kelley student clubs, organized three official callout meetings, and redefined recruiting strategies, while also working with the workshop director to adopt student-centric approaches for their decision-making processes.

Kimble has supported the local community by co-founding and serving as president of Taste of Bloomington, a club driven to build student awareness and support of local restaurants. Through his leadership, the group grew to over 60 students, with an online reach of over 17,000 people. He has also provided marketing support to two local businesses: Kilroy's on Kirkwood and Kilroy's Sports.

This past year, he was a summer associate for FintastIQ, a consulting firm founded by IU alumni, and a business transformation consulting intern at EY. He also served as a finance transformation intern with PenFed Credit Union and a data reconciliation intern with Orion Advisor Solutions during his sophomore and freshman years. He has worked as a peer tutor and teaching assistant for the course "Technology and Business Analytics," been a member of the Kelley Technology Consulting Workshop and participated in national case competitions.

Kimble now plans to take a backpacking trip through Europe over the summer before joining EY as a business transformation consultant in Tysons, Virginia. His long-term goals include traveling the world to immerse himself in diverse cultures and cuisines, as well as making a meaningful impact through his professional endeavors.

GRADUATE STUDENT SPEAKER

MOHAMMAD NASIR MORADI
Mohammad Nasir Moradi is earning a Master of Science in Secure Computing from the Luddy School of Informatics, Computing, and Engineering. He joined IU from Afghanistan as a recipient of the Institute of International Education (IIE) Odyssey Scholarship, awarded to exceptional student refugees and displaced individuals worldwide.

During his academic journey at Indiana University, Moradi has demonstrated exceptional achievement, earning both the Luddy School's Academic Excellence Award and Excellence in Leadership Award. In the 2024–2025 academic year, he was selected as one of only four students for the highly competitive Student Fellowship program at the Indiana University Center for Applied Cybersecurity Research (CACR).

He has served as a security operations technician at the University Information Security Office (UIISO) within the Security Operations (SecOps) team at Indiana University. In this role, he was responsible for monitoring various SecOps alert channels, performing initial incident response investigations, and mitigating risks to both personal and institutional data and information technology resources of the university.

As part of his CACR fellowship, Moradi worked closely with IU's Executive Director of Cybersecurity Innovation on strategic initiatives, engaging with national leaders and contributing to the development of cybersecurity capabilities of the U.S. Army. He played an integral role in strengthening trusted cybersecurity and counterintelligence efforts to improve the security of the U.S. critical infrastructure. He also traveled to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, through CACR for the 2024 NSF Cybersecurity Summit at Carnegie Mellon University, where he co-designed and presented a training session on advanced security log analysis alongside other CACR colleagues.

Moradi has also thrived in his role as a teaching assistant for Professor Apu Kapadia's graduate-level cybersecurity course, conducting office hours, assigning and grading assignments, and providing personalized support to students. He led lab sessions that incorporated hands-on demonstrations of cybersecurity concepts, ensuring students gain practical experience in applying theoretical knowledge.

He has worked as a research/reference assistant at the Scholars' Common at Herman B. Wells Library, providing support to visitors, leading tours and workshops, and offering other instructional services such as developing online research guides to ensure students have the resources to excel in their academic endeavors.

Outside his academic and professional pursuits, Moradi maintains a strong commitment to physical fitness and recreation. He is a regular at IU's Student Recreational Sports Center and has continued his lifelong interest in wrestling and boxing—sports in which he previously won several trophies during his youth in Afghanistan.

Looking ahead, Mohammad Nasir Moradi is actively pursuing opportunities to advance his academic and professional career, with an expressed desire in working within the fields of cybersecurity and data privacy for a national government agency.

She is a member of The Broadway League and was on the Board of Directors of New York Stage and Film for four years.

Throughout her career, Leve has contributed her time and talent to Indiana University. She has returned to campus many times as a visiting artist and guest speaker, leading workshops, lectures, Q&As, and rehearsals with students in various disciplines. She has connected B.F.A. Musical Theatre seniors with NY theatre professionals to build industry ties and prepare for their careers. She also regularly attends the B.F.A. Musical Theatre students' showcase performance event in New York City.

Rick Van Kooten, executive dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, writes, "Harriet Newman Leve exemplifies the very best of what our graduates can achieve. Her extraordinary career as a Broadway and film producer—marked by visionary storytelling and artistic courage—has left an indelible mark on American theater. Harriet inspires our students as both a trailblazer in the arts and a cherished member of our academic community, and we are grateful for her many contributions."

The honorary degree will be presented during the Graduate Ceremony Friday, May 9, at 3 p.m.

GRADUATE AND UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE RECIPIENTS

This Commencement program should be regarded as a preliminary document, pending confirmation of all degrees. It includes candidates for degrees and honors from January through August 2025. Degrees and honors are conferred after the completion of all requirements is verified. Diplomas will be mailed after all degree requirements and honors are confirmed. For details on graduating with honors, please visit go.iu.edu/honorgrads. Students who have completed the Hutton Honors Notation are indicated with an asterisk (*) to the right of their names. Members of the Hutton Honors College must complete 18 credit hours of honors work with at least a 3.4 cumulative grade point average in order to earn the notation.
