

INDIANA UNIVERSITY BLOOMINGTON
ONE HUNDRED NINETY-FOURTH
COMMENCEMENT

FRIDAY, MAY 5, 2023
and
SATURDAY, MAY 6, 2023

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

O! say, can you see by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there;
O! say, does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave,
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave?

HAIL TO OLD I.U.

Come and join in song together,
Shout with might and main;
Our beloved Alma Mater,
Sound her praise again.

Chorus

Gloriana, Frangipana,
E'er to her be true;
She's the pride of Indiana,
Hail to old I.U.!

—Joe T. Giles, Class of 1894

INDIANA, OUR INDIANA

Indiana, our Indiana,
Indiana, we're all for you.
We will fight for
The Cream and Crimson
For the glory of old IU.
Never daunted, we cannot falter.
In the battle, we're tried and true.
Indiana, our Indiana,
Indiana, we're all for you! I-U!

—Russell P. Harker

ONE HUNDRED NINETY-FOURTH COMMENCEMENT

Indiana University Bloomington

Dear Graduates:

Congratulations! Today's Commencement ceremony marks the culmination of your years of hard work at Indiana University. Let me add my best wishes to those of your family and friends whose love, encouragement, and faith have propelled you toward this wonderful day. The strength of that support helps all of us achieve our highest goals and deserves our deepest gratitude. Today is as much a day to share that gratitude as to celebrate.

Over the course of the years, it may have seemed as if this moment would never come. I am certain that each of you has faced challenges along the way, but I am equally certain that your professors and mentors have instilled in you skills in persuasion, reasoning, and critical inquiry that have helped you to overcome those challenges. Those are the very skills that will serve you best as you face a global future of competition and change. You have prepared for that future on an IU campus that, for many of you, has stretched around the world.

As you graduate today, you are extending the great traditions of Indiana University that have taken shape over more than two centuries. You and more than 760,000 other alumni are a proud and important part of this university's rich and living history. Wherever you go, Indiana University will always be your alma mater and will always welcome you back.

Again, congratulations and best wishes for the greatest success in the future.

Sincerely,

Pamela Whitten
President
Indiana University

COMMENCEMENT TRADITIONS

Today's 194th Commencement exercises at Indiana University Bloomington mark the joyous culmination and proud recognition of our graduates' academic achievements. The ceremony is rich in academic tradition and protocol.

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

The origins of academic dress date back to the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, when universities were taking form. The ordinary dress of the scholar, whether student or teacher, was the dress of a cleric. Long gowns were worn and may have been necessary for warmth in unheated buildings.

The assignment of colors to signify certain faculties was a much later development, and one that was standardized in the United States in the late nineteenth century. White, taken from the white fur trimming of the Oxford and Cambridge bachelor's hoods, was assigned to arts and letters. Red, one of the traditional colors of the church, went to theology. Green, the color of medieval herbs, was adopted for medicine, and olive, because it was so close to green, was given to pharmacy. Golden yellow, standing for the wealth that scientific research has produced, was assigned to the sciences.

Gowns

All candidates for degrees and those who hold these degrees, including university officials and faculty and visiting dignitaries, wear traditional gowns. Most are black, but some are brightly colored. The style of the gown indicates the highest degree held by the wearer, and the colors represent institutions and fields of study.

The gowns for bachelor's degree and associate degree recipients have a closed front and open sleeves. At Indiana University, candidates for bachelor's and associate degrees also wear crimson "stoles of gratitude," which they may keep as a memento of the day or present as a token of thanks to anyone who has guided them on their path to graduation.

The master's degree gown has extremely long, closed sleeves, from which the arms extend through a slit at the wrist; the end of the sleeve is square, with an arc cut away just above the bottom. The doctor's gown has velvet panels down the front and voluminous bell-shaped sleeves on which there are three velvet bars.

Caps, Tassels, and Hoods

Candidates for associate and bachelor's degrees wear square-topped caps—also called mortarboards—which are adorned with colored tassels appropriate to the school or division from which they are graduating. The same colors are used throughout the United States. They are:

Arts and Sciences—White
Business—Drab
Education—Light Blue
Informatics, Computing, and Engineering—Copper
Music—Pink
Nursing—Apricot
Optometry—Aqua
Public and Environmental Affairs—Peacock Blue
Public Health—Salmon
Social Work—Citron

Velvet-lined hoods are worn by holders of master's and doctoral degrees. The master's hood extends to the middle of the back, is edged in velvet in the same color as the tassel, and is lined with colors representing the institution from which the degree was earned. Indiana University hoods are lined with cream and crimson.

The doctor's hood is longer, has wider velvet edging, and fully exposes the lining.

Honor Cords and Medallions

Graduating with Distinction, High Distinction, and Highest Distinction Indiana University holds all of its graduates in high esteem and takes an added measure of pride in those who have excelled academically.

Candidates who graduate with Distinction, High Distinction, and Highest Distinction are entitled to wear on their left shoulders the fourragère, cream and crimson cords. In addition, on some IU campuses, certain students are entitled to wear gold medallions indicating that they are graduating with honors. The recorders in each school distribute fourragères to qualified students before Commencement. The requirements for graduating with honors are different for each school.

IU Bloomington College, School, and Departmental Honor Cords

Some schools and departments offer honors programs for students who excel academically and seek an enriched and challenging learning environment. Graduates who fulfill the requirements of these programs receive a notation on their diplomas and are eligible to wear gold or blue honor cords, which are provided by the participating colleges, schools, and departments.

Insignia from Greek Honor Societies

A wide array of honors organizations recognize outstanding achievement in service, philanthropy, and scholarship. Indiana University is proud of all of its students who fulfill the requirements for membership in these important societies, but on Commencement day the university singles out those honor societies that emphasize academic achievement. Graduates who have been admitted to these societies may wear the appropriate cords at Commencement.

Honor Cords for Veterans and Service Members

Graduating students who have served or are currently serving in the U.S. Armed Forces wear red, white, and blue cords.

HONORARY DEGREE CANDIDATE, UNDERGRADUATE CEREMONY

JAMES T. MORRIS

Native Hoosier and Indiana University graduate James Morris has a long and distinguished history of service to IU and to the state of Indiana. Currently Morris is vice chairman of Pacers Sports & Entertainment, which owns the Indiana Pacers and the Indiana Fever professional basketball teams.

Born in Terre Haute, Morris studied political science at IU Bloomington and was active in student government. He graduated in 1965 with a Bachelor of Arts and earned a Master of Business Administration from Butler University in 1970.

From 1967 to 1973, he served as chief of staff to the late U.S. Senator Richard G. Lugar when Lugar was mayor of Indianapolis. Morris was associated with Lilly Endowment Inc. from 1973 through 1989, serving as its president for six years. At the endowment, Morris was engaged in community development, expanding opportunities for young people, and assisting with its international programs. He was a part of the endowment's special commitment to the city of Indianapolis and the state of Indiana to strengthen higher education, including IUPUI, and build a partnership mentality where all sectors of society would come together to move things forward.

In 1989, he became chairman and chief executive officer of IWC Resources Corporation and Indianapolis Water Company.

In 2002, Morris was named executive director of the United Nations' World Food Programme, the largest humanitarian agency in the world. In that position, he oversaw food aid distribution to more than 110 million people each year, in approximately 80 countries. In 2003, Morris led the biggest food operation in history, providing nutrition services to nearly 27 million Iraqis after the United States-led invasion of Iraq. During his five years with the World Food Programme, he also served as the secretary general's special envoy for several southern African countries, including Lesotho, Swaziland, Namibia, Zambia, Zimbabwe, Malawi, and Mozambique, focusing on the triple-threat crisis of HIV, drought, and their ultimate impact on civil society.

Morris joined Pacers Sports & Entertainment in 2007, serving as its president from 2009 through 2018.

After his years of supporting IU as a professional, alumnus, and parent, in 1996 IU alumni elected Morris to the Board of Trustees, and he served in that capacity until 2002. Morris was then appointed as an IU trustee in 2013 by Governor Mike Pence and reappointed in 2016 and 2019 by Governor Eric Holcomb. He served two terms as chair of the trustees. In 2022, Morris retired from the board. He also served as a trustee of Indiana State University for eight years, including a term as its board chair.

Throughout his career, Morris has lent his expertise and leadership to numerous nonprofit organizations, including the American Red Cross, Butler University, the Boy Scouts of America, and the U.S. Olympic Committee.

Morris has received many awards and recognitions from Indiana University, including the IU Bloomington College of Arts and Sciences Distinguished Alumni Award (2005); the Kelley School of Business Academy of Alumni Fellows (inducted in 2001); the IU

Alumni Association Distinguished Alumni Service Award (1991); the Indiana University Herman B. Wells Visionary Award (2011); and the IUPUI Spirit of Philanthropy Award (1995 and 2003). He received the Sachem Award from Indiana Governor Eric Holcomb in 2021. He has been awarded the Sagamore of the Wabash by several Indiana governors, as well as the Indiana Black Expo's Spirit of Freedom Award (2015). He has received numerous honorary degrees and serves as the United States' permanent representative to the Executive Board of UNICEF. He is also a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Amir Pasic, Eugene R. Tempel Dean of the Indiana University Lilly Family School of Philanthropy, writes, "Jim is the best of what it means to be a Hoosier. He has championed key institutions and leaders, to bring out the best for his beloved university, his great state, and the cause of alleviating hunger and want wherever he encountered it. It is difficult to overstate Jim Morris's contributions to Indiana University, to our state, and to humanitarianism worldwide."

Morris and his wife, Jackie, an IU alumna, have been married for 58 years. They have three children, all IU alumni, each married to IU alumni, and eight grandchildren. Their oldest grandson, JT Morris, is also graduating from IU at this very Commencement.

STUDENT COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

MUNA ADEM
Graduate Ceremony

Muna Adem is graduating with a Doctor of Philosophy in Sociology. In describing her Ph.D. research, which has focused on issues at the intersection of race, ethnicity, and immigration, Adem has written, “My overarching research agenda is motivated by two fundamental questions: (1) How does immigration-driven diversity influence race relations, group divisions, and ethnoracial inequalities in the United States and Europe?; and (2) In what ways do organizations and elite actors contribute to the (in)stability of ethnoracial and social stratification systems?” Adem has used a number of strategies to investigate answers to these and related questions; they include advanced statistical modeling, network and text analysis, survey and behavioral experiments, and mixed methods.

Adem has also earned two master’s degrees at IU, a Master of Science in Applied Statistics in 2019 and a Master of Arts in Sociology in 2017. She completed her bachelor’s degree in 2013 at California State University, Northridge, graduating summa cum laude with a major in journalism. At CSUN, she devoted much of her energy to documentary filmmaking, addressing sociocultural issues that included the interrelationship of poverty and the duty- and tariff-free factories on the northern Mexican border; the effects of genetically modified foods on vulnerable populations; and environmental justice.

Adem was born in Germany, after her family immigrated from Himet, Ethiopia. She spent her early life in Tensta, a borough in Stockholm, Sweden, and has lived in the United States for 15 years. She will be joining the faculty of the University of Maryland as an assistant professor of sociology.

GAYATRI THIRU
Undergraduate Ceremony

Gayatri Thiru is graduating with distinction, with bachelor’s degrees from the College of Arts and Sciences (major: neuroscience; minor: mathematics) and the Kelley School of Business (major: finance). She is a member of the Hutton Honors College and the Kelley Advanced Curricular Experience (ACE) Program.

Thiru came to IU Bloomington from Clarendon Hills, Illinois, as a Hudson and Holland Scholar and a Dean’s Scholar. She has served as a faculty-selected teaching assistant in Chemistry 341 and Finance 100. Working with the TAMID Group, a student-led initiative that connects students at top universities with the Israeli economy, she created valuations of companies in Israel using discounted cash flow models as well as comparable company analyses with a focus on technology startups.

She also served on the education committee and as a senior member of the Women’s Financial Association, an organization at IU Bloomington that is dedicated to promoting the success of women who are interested in finance. In that role, she coordinated guest speakers and corporate events and worked to expand membership in the organization to non-business majors.

As an ambassador for the Finance Diversity Program, Thiru mentored undergraduates through professional development opportunities and career preparation seminars, with the goal of furthering diversity and equal opportunities among professionals in the financial services industry.

Thiru also conducted a concentrated research project in neuroscience, investigating molecular principles through laboratory experimentation and data collection. She specialized in early development of mammals to promote understanding of mammalian biological immunity.

Congratulations

to this year’s Outstanding Senior Awards recipients!

Dissertation Title: The Impacts of Hillslope Sediments Supply on the Evolution of Bedrock Rivers
Research Chair: Brian Yanites

Sander Olivia Denham
Major: Environmental Science
Dissertation Title: Climate-Vegetation Feedbacks in Eastern U.S. Deciduous Forest: Hydrologic Stress and Phenology
Research Chair: Kimberly Novick

Gauri Anand Desai
Major: Human Performance
Dissertation Title: Changes to Gait and Body Composition Mechanisms of Shock Attenuation with Age and Running Experience
Research Chair: Allison Gruber

Kelsey E. Doiron
Major: Geological Sciences
Dissertation Title: Molecular and Isotopes Proxies of Paleoclimate in Quaternary Lacustrine Sediments and Cretaceous Marine Archives and as Tracers for Catalytic Methanogenesis in Thermally Immature Shales
Research Chair: Simon Brassell

Natnatee Dokmai
Major: Computer Science
Dissertation Title: Privacy-Enhancing Technologies as Infrastructure
Research Chairs: L. Jean Camp and Cenk Sahinalp

Kaitlin Kelly Doucette
Major: Microbiology
Dissertation Title: RNA Secondary Structures in the Rotavirus NSP3 Genome Segment Promote Efficient Viral Replication
Research Chair: John Patton

Taylor Duléa Ajéwólé Duckett
Major: African American and African Diaspora Studies
Dissertation Title: Deliver Me: Contemporary Uses of Ritual and Performance to (Re)member the Black Queer Body
Research Chairs: Maria Hamilton Abegunde and Valerie Grim

David Anthony Dudek
Major: Biochemistry
Dissertation Title: The P4-type ATPase, Atp8a1, is a Cdc50a-dependent Flippase with Phosphatidylserine Specificity
Research Chair: David Daleke

Zackary Dunivin
Major: Informatics
Major: Sociology
Dissertation Title: Text, Culture, Time: Integrating Computational Methods into Social Science Toolkits
Research Chairs: Stasa Milojevic and Fabio Rojas

Aaron David Ellis
